 Subject: Tell me about the zoo!

 Hello, Hajime. How have you been? It's winter vacation now, so I'm really good. I have a lot of homework to do, but I still have time to read books, go skiing, and so on.

By the way, I'm going to the zoo in the city with my host family next week. But they've never been there, and I haven't either. I hear we can see the monkeys in the *hot spring there. I am looking forward to that. You said you went there last November, didn't you? If you have any good information about the zoo, e-mail it to me. Bye!

 Subject: Re:Tell me about the zoo!

 Hi, Tom! I'm glad to hear you are enjoying your vacation. I've been busy *recently, because I also have so much homework to do, and have to make New Year's cards.

Anyway, yes, I visited the zoo last November. It was so exciting! I saw many different kinds of animals.

First, I looked at the *giraffes. They were *stretching their long necks and trying to (①) the leaves at the top of tall trees.

Then I went to see the elephants. They were using their *trunks to (②) water all over the bodies. *That's how they wash their bodies. It was fun to watch them.

After that, I went to see the lions. They were not sleeping, but weren't moving at all. < i >.

And of course, I watched the monkeys in the hot spring! They (③) so relaxed then. Watching them made us happy. I hope it will be snowing when you visit the monkeys. < ii >.

My most important advice is to get there as early as you can. There are a lot of animals and if you want to see them all, you should (④) the whole day there.

Also, the zoo will be very *crowded because the New Year's holiday will be next week. I think the monkeys will be the most popular of all animals in the zoo. < iii >.

After you get back home, please tell me about your visit to the zoo. Have a good time!

* hot spring	: 温泉
recently	: 最近
giraffe	: キリン
stretch	: ～を伸ばす
trunk	: (ゾウの) 鼻
That's how ～.	: そのようにして～する

[9] 次の英文を読んで、あとの問いに答えなさい。

After the 2015 World Cup, the Japanese rugby team became very popular. Mr. Goromaru is now the most popular rugby player in Japan because he played so well and his *routine before each *placekick became very famous in the World Cup. Now a lot of people try to *imitate the routine. He says he does it to make his *concentration deeper.

Many people have their own routines for some reasons. My friend Taro is a good shogi player and he has his own routine. Before he makes his first move in a game, he always holds a shogi* piece in front of his head, closes his eyes for a moment and takes a deep breath. He says he does it to make himself more relaxed.

My uncle Ken has his own routine, too. He is a taxi driver. Each day when he starts to drive, he always moves the *rearview mirror. He moves it up and down, and then he moves it back to its original position. When he told me about his routine, I wondered why he does it. I don't think moving the mirror up and down and back to its original position means anything. When I asked him about it, he answered, “①By doing that, I tell myself to drive carefully, especially when there are passengers in the taxi.”

I also have my own routine. Every night when I go to bed, I put my *cell phone and my glasses to the left of the *pillow (I mean, while I sleep *on my back, I have them to the left of my head). I think I started the routine because I'm right-handed and it is easier to take my cell phone and my glasses with my right hand when I wake up. Also, I sleep well every night because I feel *relieved to know that my cell phone and glasses are just next to my head. The *alarm on my cell phone rings and wakes me up each morning. And when I wake up, I know I can quickly put my glasses on. So I never have to worry that I won't see things when I wake up.

Like these, there are a lot of people who have their own routines. It is interesting to find our routines. ②Do you have your own?

* routine	: ルーティーン (いつもしているお決まりのこと)
