Do you know the history of Tirol chocolate*? Tirol chocolate was made for the first time in 1962. At that time, chocolate was very expensive. However, a company ①(find) a special method* of making chocolate, so they could sell it for only 10 yen. Soon, it ②(become) popular with children.

③In the past, the shape of Tirol chocolate was different from the shape of current types*. Originally*, there was one bar* of chocolate in each package. The bar was made up of three parts, and they looked like three small mountains. People could cut the bar into three pieces easily by hand. In 1976, because (④) changes in the economy, the company had to raise* the price from 10 yen to 20 yen, and then to 30 yen.

At that time, many people said ⑤*Tirol chocolate* () be sold for 10 yen. So, in 1979, the company changed the shape of the chocolate to only one piece, and this smaller-sized piece of chocolate was once again sold for 10 yen. And the “Tirol chocolate” was known (⑥) everybody.

By 1993, Tirol chocolate was sold in convenience stores and supermarkets across the country. But this led to* ⑦a new problem. Because each piece of Tirol chocolate was so small, the company could not display* a barcode on the outside of each wrapper*. So, each piece of Tirol chocolate was made larger and had to be sold for 20 yen. This is Tirol chocolate (⑧) we can now find in most stores.
